NOT AFRAID OF "TAINTED" COIN.

COLUMBIA'S PRESIDENT WOULD USE IT FOR GOOD.

Dr. Butler, Who Is Here on His Honeymoon, Talks Interestingly on Variety of Topics—Praises California and Her Universities—is Guest at Hotel Wentworth.

No dry-as-dust pedagogue. If you please; no dear old fossil of a "Fraternity," peering at you over the rim of his pipe; no youthful, well-set-up man of the world, crisp and cordial, is Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, who is now spending his honeymoon at the Hotel Wentworth in Pasadena.

Dr. Butler's retreat was invaded last evening by a reporter from The Times. A warm grasp of the hand and pleasant greetings with the ring of genuine sincerity was the reporter's welcome.

"Is there any subject you would like to ask me about especially?" Dr. Butler asked with quite a fellow-feeling expression to his face. "I have a number of newspapers friends and I know you want to get down to business which was a wonderfully polite way of saying 'What time is limited and let's have it over.'"

"Won't you please entertain for the benefit of our readers," was what the reporter had in his mind, and he said so but what he really said was: "I am an editor and I would like to ask you, Dr. Butler, as a cat in a hole upon a king."

The president gave a jolly laugh and then drew him up to the subject of the coming visit of the N.E.A., one of the ones of the directors of that national educational organization.

"I think," he said, "you may expect an enormous attendance at the coming year's meeting. You will understand the attractiveness of a topic so timely and early summer. They discovered its attraction at that convention. They respect the benefit of their memories and they added interest that has grown up since."

"How did we manage to come out ahead?" Philadelphia, Dr. Butler was asked.

"Oh, that was a railroad disagreement—a happy accident you might call it—to bring us here in August. The N.E.A. was born in Philadelphia thirty years ago, and this will be the half-century anniversary. That is the reason we were to meet in Philadelphia, an matter of sentiment, but the action taken by the large trunk lines going into New York City made it impossible for the liberal interpretation of the new interstate Commerce laws by the United States Pacific system decided the matter."

Dr. Butler professed an immense admiration for the men in educational work in California. He said he would have more than your share of real universities out here," he said. "Berkeley is the best. It is the best of the State universities and Stanford ranks next. Under Dr. Jordan, gives you another of the best."

"What do you call real universities, Dr. Butler?" the reporter queried.

"The test of a real university is in the standards of education, the equipment for research, the equipment and the teaching force. How many do you have at the University of California? Why not more than a dozen all told? And yet have two of them out here on the coast."

"There is a great deal to be concerned in ranking an institution. You can't make a university out of dollars; you have to have brains. You can't make one out of man alone; you must have something to work with. Let me say you must have equipment."

Speaking of Rockefeller's contribution to the cause of education, Dr. Butler said, with a quizzical smile: "I believe that when a man has too much money the best thing he can do is to take it away from him. Let it accomplish nothing by educating anybody. The Rockefeller Foundation is not going to lead the modern movement in education. It is not stolen right under somebody's nose."

"Now do I know how Harvard got its money he gave to Harvard University, and it wasn't so very much money, but the good that has resulted. And the fact that the university there might have been stolen for all I know."

Dr. Butler said he would give me some word for the alumni of Columbia Southern California?

"We are not going to talk to them Wednesday, you can report it later."

The Board of Supervisors yesterday accepted the streets and alleys and ordered maps placed on file for six new tracts, which include the Los Angeles Pacific Boulevard Tract, the Huntington Boulevard Tract, the Valley View Tract, Alhambra Acres, Pasadena Park Tract No. 2, and the Honey Tract.

Death Ends His Troubles.
William Ford, who took cocaine at Robert Station Sunday night, died at the Receiving Hospital yesterday morning. Because of poor health he came here from the East. He was unable to find employment and when his money was gone, he took the drug to end his miseries. The body is at Broth & Boynton's morgue.

For May Anderson.
A musical and literary entertainment for the benefit of May Anderson, one of the victims of the Crespi gas explosion, will be given in the new High School auditorium at Redondo Friday night. It is under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. of Redondo, of which Mrs. Ruth Anderson is president. Fifteen numbers have been provided, and considerable interest is shown in the affair.

Baroque Banquet.
The Baroque class of the First Methodist Church, numbering seventy young men, will give a banquet at the Angelus Hotel on Friday evening. The teacher of the class is O. O. McReynolds, and special guests will be H. W. Brodbeck, superintendent of the school; Dr. Robert McIntyre, pastor of the church; and Dr. G. F. Boyce, president of the University of Southern California.

Two Franchises Awarded.
The Pacific Light and Power Company was granted a franchise yesterday by the Board of Supervisors for an electric pole and wire line on the Dominguez road. The company, paid bid for the franchise, a franchise to sell for $75 to the Downey Home Telephone Company for a telephone and telegraph franchise for the townships of Downey, Norwalk and Los Nietos, with the exception of Whittier.

Writing on Picture Postals.
Postmaster Plink has received a new order from the Postmaster-General in reference to "picture" postal cards and it goes into effect at once. Hereafter, where the reverse side of a postal card has a picture, and there is no room enough for explanatory messages, the sender could write on the stamped side, provided he paid letter postage—2 cents. Under the new order he may write on the left-hand corner of the address side without extra charge. That is, the card goes through for 1 cent. Foreign countries were permitted to send such postal cards to the post office without paying an extra charge. His rule of permitting extra writing on the stamped side of picture cards applies to them only, and not to ordinary postal cards.

Covered Wagon for Insane.
Superior Alexander brought before the Board of Supervisors yesterday the need for better transportation facilities for insane patients from the County Hospital to the Courthouse. The number of insane persons in this county has reached such a stage that there is almost daily call for their transportation from the hospital to the county jail. Other members of the board concurred with him and authority was given Alexander to make arrangements for the building of a proper wagon for this use. Recently the county has had constant expense in the hire of proper vehicles for patients. It is estimated that the new wagon will cost from $500 to $700.

Good Roads Meet Meeting.
Garvarius has taken a greater interest in the subject of good roads than probably any other one section of the city or county. Tonight at 8 o'clock at Miller's Hall on Pasadena avenue, will be held a monster mass meeting for the purpose of discussing ways and means of securing for Garvarius the best roads it is possible to build. The meeting will be attended by a number of city officials, and members of the Board of Supervisors have been invited. The women of Garvarius have been interested in the matter and the housewives of that district will provide refreshments for tonight's meeting in the form of a picnic. The meeting will be open to the public, the only requirement being that those who attend must be interested in good roads.

CLEANSED OF HIS CRIMES.

Reformed Burglar Offers to Repay Victims.

Gets Chief of Police to Help Him Locate Them.

Converted by Tract While in Folsom Prison.

Reformed and repentant, a converted burglar and hold-up man has been spending all his time, when not working, in looking up his victims of six and seven years ago and offering retribution for the valuables he had looted.
Yesterday he located the home of the only family he had not yet made amends to, and going in, brokenly introduced himself as the man who had taken cherished heirlooms in the summer of 1899.

This was the home of Mr. and Mrs.
R. L. Doane of No. 842 North Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena. He talked freely with them, and told how he became a criminal, what he had done, how he had been convicted and served six years in Folsom, how some prison workers had given him a tract which set him to thinking, and how he had spent long hours in reading the Bible, ending finally in his conversion and determination to lead a new life and make amends for his misdeeds.

Some one else had been suspected of the crime at the Doane residence, and Mrs. Doane told him that she was relieved to learn the truth.

"Did the other man suffer for it?" asked the man quickly. Mrs. Doane assured him that outside of herself and husband, no one else had ever learned of the suspicion.

SUFFER FOR ANOTHER.

"Oh, I'm glad of that," the man answered. "The first term I served was for another man's crime, and it would hurt me forever if someone else had suffered for what I did."

The man's story, as he told it, is a remarkable one. After being in prison in the East, he "hit the road" for five years. In the summer of 1899 he was in Pasadena. One day he went to the back door of the Doane home, intending to ask for food. He found that no one was at home. Temptation was strong, and he fell.

Forcing the screen door, he went upstairs and commenced ransacking the house. He lit a light and was moving around when Mrs. Doane returned.
Mrs. Doane saw the light, and thinking it was one of her sons, called him by name. He blew out the light and ran for the front door, which he was unable to unlock. Mrs. Doane called to her husband, and he came running.
The burglar, seeing the situation, was about to jump out of the window, but he was caught by the foot.

"And let me give you a piece of advice," he said yesterday. "If you find a burglar again, don't do a thing like that. If you haven't got a gun, let the burglar get away. I wasn't a professional then, or I'd have had a gun, and used it, too, if I had had it."

FROM BAD TO WORSE.

He then explained that he had gone directly down town and taken a car for Los Angeles. Arriving here, he entered on a professional career of crime. In about two months he burglarized six places, making at some of them good hauls. Then he held up a man.

This completed his downfall. He was captured, convicted and sentenced to nine years in Folsom. Some prison workers gave him a tract, and that set him to thinking. He determined to reform and make amends.

It was while he was at Folsom that the great jail break took place there.

"Yes, I might have got away," he said in answer to a question, "but at that time I had already determined to lead a new life, and if I had got away with part of my sentence unfulfilled, I would never have felt right until I had returned and completed it."

He got the maximum allowance of time for good behavior, and last August was discharged. He went to California and worked at his trade.
But the memory of his past misdeeds would not let him be happy, and he made up his mind to seek out those he had injured and make reparation.

He came to Los Angeles and got work. Then he started to find the families he had robbed.

Some of them he found. Some of them had moved, and he did not know how to find them.

ASKS HELP OF POLICE.

In his dilemma he appealed to Chief of Police Auble. The chief ransacked records, made searches for the man, and finally located every person that the ex-burglar had wronged. To each one of them he went and confessed his crime. Carefully he made up a record of the things he had taken, and asked for a valuation on them, so that he might pay. In every case the persons wronged refused to allow him to repay.

Yesterday he called on the Doanes, and after telling his story, asked that he might pay them. He had taken only a few articles of value—some razors, a pair of shears, etc. Mrs. Doane said that the knowledge that she had long suspected an innocent man, and the relief at finding her suspicions wrong, was ample recompense for his crime. She said she was as far as in her power, repaired the wrongs he did.

"I'm growing younger all the time," he said. "The last two years I was in prison I felt I was growing gray.
But now I'm all right. I'm going right that way."

LEGS CRUSHED BY ELEVATOR.

Willie King, a 15-year-old lad employed at the J. W. Long Printing Emporium at No. 214 South Los Angeles street, sustained serious injuries last yesterday afternoon in an elevator accident. The lad was seated upon the floor of a freight elevator and with his legs extending into the shaft. Another lad working at the same place started the elevator, but before King realized what was occurring the calves of his legs were crushed and his left hand was mangled. After being attended at the Receiving Hospital, the lad was sent to his home at No. 424 1/2 South Main street.

BEAUTIFUL WOMAN WITH A ROMANCE OF THREE CONTINENTS HERE.

MRS. ELIZABETH BLAIR RUDKIN.

SAN JUAN DOG HERO FALLS BEFORE AUTO.

Only a dog. Noted canine which died at Whittier yesterday, and some of the incidents in its career.

AFTER having braved the leaden hall of that deadly rush San Juan Hill in Cuba in 1898, and after having passed through dangers that made cowards of brave men, Don, a Cuban bloodhound, the best-known and probably the best-loved dog of the Whittier community, died in that city yesterday, the victim of a scorching automobile.

Don was the property of Dr. F. H.
Radley, and was valued both because of his history and well-tested bravery, and for an almost human intelligence.

He was given by Col. Roosevelt. In the stormy days of the Cuban campaign, to his lieutenant, Hamilton Fish, Company H, of the Rough Riders, and became the pet of the soldiers and one of their mascots.

Pressing close to his master, Don took his part in the famous rush up San Juan Hill, and was the unlucky mortal who opposed him. His great strength and unflinching courage stood him in good stead that day, and when the boys who took the hill fell or those awful hours, Don, their mascot, always comes in for a word of praise.

But Hamilton Fish, his master, fell that day, and the faithful pet was given by his comrades to Col. William Wallace, whose property he was for several years.

At the death of this owner, in Whittier, a few years ago, Mrs. Wallace presented Don to Dr. Radley, the family physician. Since that time the big dog had had the freedom of the Quaker town, and had never walked through the streets without receiving much at-

WOMAN SEEKS TO BLACKMAIL.

DEMANDS LARGE SUM OF OWNER OF RESTAURANT.

Letters Containing Threats of Ex-posure Received by Proprietor of South Broadway Cafeteria and Turned Over to Police—United States Authorities Take Up Case.

With a woman's handwriting as the only clue, detectives are seeking to clear away the mystery which surrounds an attempt to blackmail Dryfus & Potts, proprietors of a cafeteria at No. 214 1/2 South Broadway. So complex appears the plot that the police acknowledge they are completely baffled, and no hope is entertained by them of apprehending the criminals.

Some time ago Potts & Dryfus purchased the cafeteria from Hanson & Elder, now proprietors of another similar place. This caused a change of employees, but the plot, believed to be under the former management, remained. However, the change of employees does not figure in the blackmailing plot, except for some suspicious circumstances.

Some weeks ago Joseph Dryfus received a threatening letter. It was written evidently by a woman. It was understood that threats were implied, but no direct allegations or demands were made. Subsequent letters, however, have been growing more serious and daring.

Money was demanded and charges were made against the members of the restaurant. According to a reliable informant, it is understood that the would-be blackmailers stated that if certain requests were not at once complied with the most infamous means would be used by the blackmailers to force the issue.

At first Potts & Dryfus tried by every means to learn the identity of the writer of the letters, but circumstances forced them to seek aid from the police. Investigation by them led to the conclusion that the plot was carried on by a gang of criminals. On the advice of the police, private detectives began an investigation also.

Joseph Dryfus admitted that the case was worrying him. Last night he would not discuss the details of the plot nor state the context of the black-mailing letters. He admitted that for a time a suspicion had rested on the cafeteria, but stated that the officers now believe she is not connected with the case.

By comparing the letters the officers ascertained definitely that all were written by the same person. No means of tracing the letters have yet been discovered by the officers. The police consider the case of such importance that they have tried to keep it "quiet," and but few persons in the department know of the attempt.

The Federal authorities have taken up the case, and secret service officers are working on it. The letters have been sent to the United States marshal at San Francisco, and it is said that the contents are such that the postoffice authorities are anxious to prosecute the case in event any one is captured.

NOT AN "OLD MAN."

Because J. A. McDonald had to leap aboard a street car on Temple street last night while the car was in motion and because J. H. Shepley of No.
211 West Eleventh street, the conductor called McDonald "old man," Mc-Donald slapped the conductor. The men were taken to Central Station where Shepley was advised to secure a battery complaint today.

HER ROMANCE SPANS GLOBE.

Dashing Bride-to-Be Now Waits in Pasadena.

Travels Fifteen Thousand Miles for Divorce.

Going Eleven Thousand to Marry Again.

Dashing, handsome society bride at 24, descendant of one of Abraham Lincoln's advisers, adored and then abused in the solitudes of Africa by her rich husband, son of a Massachusetts owner of big blocks of Standard Oil shares; wooed and won from her helpmeet while yet a wife, traveling 15,000 miles across sea and land to win a divorce from an American court, and now racing 11,000 miles further to become a bride again—this time the bride of a gallant soldier, whom she once nursed back to life and afterward met by chance—such is the world-girdling, non-stirring romance of Mrs. Elizabeth Blair Rudkin, now a temporary resident of Pasadena.

It is a romance of three continents—America, Africa and Australia—with a setting of tragedy in the island of Cuba, where the man this captivating woman is about to marry fell ill of fever while Spanish bullets whizzed on the battlefield of Santiago.

At the present moment, while the heroine awaits in Pasadena the sailing of her steamer to Australia, her discarded husband lives amid heaps of diamonds. Every day he handles as if they were so much gravel gems that would pay a king's ransom. She knows that many of the might have been hers for the expression of the wish to possess them. But they have for her no attraction. She is thinking only of the altar that awaits her in Melbourne. Her happiness disturbed by no regret for the past. Her sole worry is that lightning express trains and ocean greyhounds are all too slow in transporting her to elysium in the Antipodes.

The happy man? He is August Hurlbut, captain of New York volunteers in the Spanish-American war, but now a merchant in Melbourne.
The lovers, divorced husband? He is William R. Rudkin, graduate of Yale, and son of L. B. Rudkin, of Roxbury, Mass., a heavy stockholder in the Standard Oil trust. He is consulting engineers for a great number of British syndicates that own diamond mines around Kimberley, South Africa. His present home is in London.

Mrs. Rudkin herself is the daughter of William J. Blair of New York City.
It was in that metropolis, at the fashionable Little Church Around the Corner, amid all the gaudy and glamour that a proud ancestry and the popularity of a winsome belle could wish that she became Rudkin's wife. It was in Chicago, that manseum of broken hearts and myriad divorces, that she forgot her bridal vows and plighted troth to Capt. Hurlbut ere she had begun her suit for separation from William Rudkin.

WED AROUND THE CORNER.

When Elizabeth Blair's little figure, robed in the height of fashion, glided with the step of a fairy and the grace of a queen down the aisle of the Little Church Around the Corner to receive from William Rudkin, 22 years old, the gold band of wedlock, everybody whispered it was a love match. Yet within eight years from that date the worshipful bridegroom of that day is tossed aside like a worthless bauble; enthroned in her heart now is another lover.

Will the new love last? Read the answer in the loveletter of Mrs. Rudkin's ex-husband, the loveletter that portrays so realistically in "The Little Minister." Then hope that the downs of Australia may provide a more restful life for the bride. For that reason her love turned to hate. Will the gallant Hurlbut, a fearless and terrible man with the sword in the war with Spain, prove as gentle and tractable as the docile hanger-on of the Antipodes?

Elizabeth Rudkin belongs to one of the foremost families of the United States, a family that has won everlasting fame during the last two centuries, and Missouri, at least. Her father's cousin was Maj.-Gen. Francis Preston Blair, once a member of the United States Senate, and a candidate for vice-president. His father was Francis Preston Blair, one of the founders of the Republican party, an adviser of President Van Buren, and a confidant of Lincoln. His grandfather, James Blair, was once Attorney General of Virginia.

BECOMES ARMY NURSE.

It was a splendid record of ancestral achievements in national affairs that Elizabeth Blair could boast when the Spanish-American War broke out. Then only about 13 years old, slight and dainty, she seemed anything but fitted for the rigorous requirements of an army nurse. But the military blood of her ancestors took fire at the roar of the explosion of the Maine in Havana harbor and when the first shot of Dewey's victorious cannon boomed across the Pacific from Manila, she volunteered to care for the soldier wounded on the American side. As a nurse she found a post of duty in Bellevue Hospital, New York City.

Meantime the army of Shafter was invading Cuba. In its ranks were the troops of the Seventy-third New York Infantry, composed of especially blue-blooded sons. Heading a company of New York volunteers was Capt. August Hurlbut, then 27, robust and gallant.

The American transports landed Castile of war and the United States fleet took station before Santiago. All awaited the call to battle. It came.
Roosevelt was there, and with his Rough Riders, dashed up the hill toward Santiago. Capt. Hurlbut was there, and with his sword waved his New Yorkers onward, onward under a blistering tropical sun, onward through the mire of a tropic deluge of rain had left, onward through a death hail of bullets from the rifles of Spanish infantrymen, and through a tangled mass of tropic verdure interwoven with barbed wire that stripped the soldiers of clothing, and tore their flesh. And when the charge ended, when Shafter ordered that famous halt that brought the surrender of Santiago, the weary American boys in khaki were compelled to lie down in wet trenches, their rifles in hand, and with water-soaked earth for pillows, to hold, sleeping, the fate of the world.

directors of the best galleries in the United States has brought valuable suggestions in regard to building, lighting, classification, what to do, and what not to do.

In a recent letter to the president, Mrs. Housh, W. M. French, director of the Art Institute of Chicago, says: "I shall be glad to advise with you or with your architects upon any subject relating to your project. The matter interests me very much, and I shall not feel it any trouble to answer questions that may occur to you."

upon which she intends to build a dwelling. Mr. Briggs has just sold his lot on Plaza Square and West Chapman street to parties who will build a commodious business block on the property at once. B. F. Dierker has sold his home place of four lots and a six-room new house, in M. C. Rolla, for the stated price of $4000. Mr. Dierker purchased these lots a year ago for $1200, and built the house, and considers that he has made $500 in the transaction. He has now bought five lots in the First Home tract, and will build another residence. Addison Lighthall has purchased a lot in Nutwood Place, a beautiful addition to Orange, consideration $600. He will build a residence at once. J. H. Mathews has bought H. Stuck's ten-acre ranch near Orange, selling Mr. Stuck a house and lot in Orange. J. H. Mathews is purchasing from F. Loescher a house and lot in Shadel's addition. Prices not given. To show how values are advancing in Orange, $25 per foot was refused two weeks ago for property two blocks distant from the Plaza.

At Fullerton during the past week J. W. Shenk sold his fifteen-acre walnut and orange grove to A. S. Bradford, consideration named $18,000. H. Stone sold his twenty-acre ranch set to walnut trees to J. Dierksen, consideration $4500. Mr. Stone has just completed a new $2000 bungalow in Fullerton. Jacob Bier, through his agent, M. Hay, has purchased eight lots in Fullerton from Mrs. Clara H. H. Davis, consideration $2750.

Anahelm is expending over $50,000 for improving and extending the city water mains, and for an electric plant to light the city. A business block is in the course of construction for Hugo and Gus Strodtbeck to be located on West Center street. Henry Roderick of Orange will not build a $1000 residence on his property in that city.

The growing demand for small farms in the fertile sections of Orange county has led to the subdividing of several big ranches since the first of the year. The largest transfer was that of 10,500 acres of the Marco Forster estate to E. Barnett of Los Angeles, who bought out three of the five heirs. His purchase lies south of the Decho Cañon line. The rest of the great ranch, 3500 acres, remains in the possession of John and Frank Forster. Late in January Maurice Ray, of Fullerton, purchased 16,000 acres of land of what was formerly known as the Yorba estate. The property transferred had been in the Yorba name since Mexican days, and was donated to Ray by Perforio Yorba of Lordsburg and Francisco Yorba de Velez of Pomona. The breaking up of another big tract of land was that of the sale to the city of the Danahy tract between Fairview and Newport Beach, to S. Townsend of Los Angeles, for the stated price of $27,500. It is understood that the members of the Modjeska Country Club, who bought the great actress's holdings in San Diego last summer, will not subdivide the property. According to their articles of incorporation recently filed, they are permitted to do a general ranching and stock raising business, as well as operate cold storage and ice plants. It is surmised that eventually the grounds will be opened for a resort to the public. The ranch is ideally situated and has long been the pride of the county.

The Style "W" Knabe

The demand for a piano of the highest possible class and of dimensions sufficiently small to adapt it to apartments, cozy homes and diminutive flats has induced the Makers of the Greatest Piano in the World to create The New Style "W" Knabe Piano.

Distinctly a creation, the Style "W" is the most extraordinary piano of the past decade. Magnificent in tone, it possesses all of the character of the grand piano, meeting every requirement of the heaviest fortissimos, retaining at the same time that purity and liquid sweetness, that living, singing quality so abundantly present in Knabe creations, and without which no piano can attain true greatness.

The action of the Style "W" is the perfection of elasticity and responsiveness. In its mechanical construction it is the scientific adoption of the Knabe Grand Action applied to the upright piano. The same perfection of touch, rapidity of repetition and delicacy are present, making it ideal in every detail.

Particularly pleasing is the Ionic design of the Style "W" case. Simplicity, elegance and artistic taste show in its every line. Satin-finished in the richest of mahoganies, it is the prettiest, the daintiest and the most perfect of all small pianos. Best of all, it's Knabe. Price $325.00. Easy payments.

READY TO RIDE OVER A VETO.

ARIZONA LEGISLATURE PASSES
BULLION TAX BILL.

Governor is Opposed to Law and Mining Lobby Prepares for Action—'Bully' O'Neill's Brother Confesses That President Roosevelt is Far-Sighted and Apologetic.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)
PHOENIX (Ariz.) March 8.—Only twelve days remain of the legislative session and two of them are Sundays.
On the whole, the session had been uneventful, save for the gambling bill, which yesterday, when the bullion tax bill went through both houses under pressure from the mining interests and despite the strongest opposition from Gov. Kibbey and the minority.
It is not alleged that any bribery was resorted to in order to gain the large majority of votes required. Indeed, it is conceded that this is the cleanest legislative body with which Arizona has been favored for many years. But as the mining lobby has been numerous and industrious and full of guile and arguments, some of the members are presumed to have traded their votes for measures that seemed of more moment to them than themselves and their constituents and some more were from the great mining centers and needed no "bribe" at all.
So the bill passed through the House yesterday afternoon by a vote of 17 to 7, hurried over to the Council, which has remained in session till a late hour, awaiting for the bill by amendment and all, and this morning "put up" to the Governor, with two days to spare against the possibility of a "veto" in the last day of the session. For the last two days of the session it is expected that the mine owners' lobby will receive a special effort to maintain a two-thirds majority for the over-riding of the expected veto of the executive. Some added strength was given the bill by an amendment raising the basis of mining assessment from 25 to 35 per cent of the value of the bullion output and by a provision that surface work and waste should be taxed at their regular proportion of value.

TRIBUTE TO PRESIDENT.
Perhaps the most striking feature of the long and somewhat bitter debate that accompanied the taxation bill in both houses was the speech of Coun-cillman E. B. O'Neill of Maricopa county, a brother of the lamented Capt.
O'Neill, for whom the territory has voted a $25,000 monument at Prescott.
Mr. O'Neill had had sarcastic things to say of recent President Roosevelt in the early part of the session, his sentiments grounded mainly upon the administration's assumed attitude on the joint-stocked light. But when the bullion tax bill was on the verge of passage in the Council, O'Neill tendered the President his humble apologies. He said that during the Statehood campaign, he had strenuously denied the assertions of Senator Beveridge, apparently supported by the President, that the mining corporations controlled Arizona. He now wished to apologize and to admit the President's superior wisdom.

Thursday the opponents of bullion taxation in the House started a dilution, using every means of delay within their power with a hostile speaker in the chair. Yet the bill was ordered printed and the printer was hauled out of bed at midnight to get the work done. But Williams of Coconino, chairman of the Printing Committee, told the original bill from the printer, those yesterday as an ideal one for a trip into the country, returning only when advised that the original majority was on the point of accepting another copy of the bill as the original. Even then Mr. Williams was contemptuous and neglected of the committee of the Speaker and House and very narrowly escaped a vote of censure, at least.

ANTI-RAILROAD BILL.
It was almost suspicious that there was anti-railroad legislation in the House immediately after the late afternoon disposition of the bullion tax bill. This legislation was in the shape of passage of the Crenshaw bill establishing a railroad freight rate of 15 cents a ton mile. It passed by a vote of 14 to 8, despite the fact that it was loaded with a "ride," a copy of Bill's Railroad Commission bill, that had been killed in the House only a couple of days before. But its passage mattered little, and was hardly worth a trade, if one there was, for it will be stepped upon by the Council, which is settling expert in such matters. It had practice in killing a 3-cent fare bill and later laid a 4-cent bill to rest.
Counsellman Blakey stated that he knew the 4-cent rate would not be substantiated for he is a stockholder in an Arizona railroad that does not pay, though levying a tariff of 5 cents a mile. Attorney-General Clark, on request, submitted an opinion to the House in which he stated his belief that the bill commission bill would be in contravention of recent railway rate legislation enacted by Congress. But the rate bill was pushed by Mr. Bell as a Democratic "party measure." It is to be noted that the Council is the publican in political possession.

NOMINATIONS MADE.
The Governor has sent in the greater number of his appointments for confirmation. Most of them are reappointments. One exception is that of Thomas H. Rynning, named to succeed Jerry Millay, as superintendent of the Territorial penitentiary. Rynning has done good service for several years as captain of the Arizona Rangers, a place in which it is understood he is to be succeeded by Lieut. Wheeler, now in a hospital at Tombstone with wounds received at Benson a few days ago in a rescue of his duty.
John H. Page has been named as Territorial Auditor, R. L. Long, as Superintendent of Public Instruction.
James Mahoney as Superintendent of the Industrial School, Dr. Ray Ferguson as Superintendent of the Asylum for the Insane, and Dr. G. W. Coleman as Superintendent of Public Health. J.
C. Adams, T. E. Pollock and B. A.
Packard have been continued as members of the Territorial Fair Commission.
E. W. Wells, R. E. Morrison, M. J.
Hickey, Morris Goldwater, R. E.
Gleason, have been named on the O'Neill Monument Commission; George Blount as a member of the Board of Education, and Eugene Slicker as Fish and Game Commissioner.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.
Though opposed strongly by the representatives of the Santa Fe Railway system, the bill sustaining Ralph Cameron in control of the Bright Angel trail into the Grand Canyon has passed both houses, after arduous debate in the Assembly.
Counsellman Blakey has introduced and is pushing a bill permitting local option upon a vote of a majority in a city or precinct, instead of a two-thirds vote, as at present. This is the measure designed by the church folk to enable Phoenix entirely from the burning.
The salary of the Public Examiner, recognized as a most necessary officer, has been raised to $2000 a year, with allowance for expenses and for clerk hire.

A bill is being pushed, with fair chances of success, exempting nickel-plated machines, which do not pay in money, from the operation of the law prohibiting gambling, which takes effect April 1.

The Governor has signed a bill giving trial jurors in Territorial District courts a compensation of $3 a day, instead of $2 as at present. He has vet-ed a bill that sought to give justice of the peace jurisdiction in municipal criminal cases.

All bills affecting the Arizona Rangers have been tabled or defeated, and that organization remains as at present.
President Duran has introduced a bill for the establishment of a home for aged and infirm miners.

The doors of a new theater, a good sample, introduced by Whitesides, was tabled yesterday. It made a misdemeanor the wearing of calves before six months of age. One was killed of the parents."

BARNUM'S TESTIMONIAL.
Benefit to Theatrical Director. This Afternoon Promises to Be an Unusual Success.

Indications are that the Barnum testimonial performance, which is to be tendered that well-known actor and stage manager this afternoon at the Belasco Theater, will be one of the biggest and most enthusiastic "theatrical love-feasts" ever celebrated in California.

of the town has been unanimous, and the public has responded to the call with equal alacrity. The Belasco will be opened promptly at 12:30 o'clock, and the performance is scheduled to start at exactly 1:30 o'clock. The length of the bill indicates that it will continue until considerably after 5 o'clock.
The stage will be under the personal supervision of Robert Rosworth and Belasco Morris. J. N. Lanza, director of the Belasco orchestra, will have charge of the augmented force of musicians.

In order, the programme follows: Feriallo's band, three selections; Bradley Martin, Belasco company, scientific musical performance; Henry Stockbridge and Fay Halter, Burbank musical specialty; Harry Montever, Burbank company, recitations; Belasco company, third act of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," Mason Opera-house; Whirney quartette, Messrs.
Gregg, Walker, McComas and Chick; George Ade—who it is said has never before appeared on the stage in "a few remarks;" George W. Barnum, presenting George Ade's new sketch, "Marcel Covington," in which he will be assisted by Messrs. Lewis Stone, Harry Glazier, Richard Vivian and Harry Earl; Rev. Robert J. Burdette, short talk; Antonio Apache, in a new musical sketch; Mrs. Carolyn von Benson, lyric soprano.

The German steamer Fiat and the British steamer Queen Adelaide yesterday were reported aground in Chesapeake Bay, both vessels having missed the channel in the heavy snowstorm of Sunday. They are not thought to be in danger.

OFFERS ROOM FOR OFFICES.

GIVEN WOULD BUILD TO RENT TO THE COUNTY.

Proposition to Meet Wants Near Courthouse for Five Years for Approximately One Hundred Thousand Dollars Appeals to Supervisors Pending Erection of Hall of Records.

It is possible that the overflow offices from the Courthouse will at last find shelter in a fine new building to be erected expressly for their use on Broadway, almost opposite the large granite pile from which they are now crowded.

A proposition was made to the Board of Supervisors yesterday by G. M.
Giffen looking to this end. It will be decided next Thursday at a special meeting of the board.

Giffen, who also represents the Barr-Harrington Realty Company, which has recently built several large structures in remarkably quick time, proposes to erect on the lot immediately south of the Broadway Christian Church a four-story steel and concrete fireproof structure, 55x150 feet, with plate-glass front and all modern improvements. The building would be arranged inside to suit the needs of the county offices, and would be leased to the county for a term of five years for an annual rental of approximately $8-600. The rental is to be $175.00 a month for a four-story building, or $150.00 for a three-story building. The class of building, only three stories in height, for this month.

Nothing less than a five-year lease will be considered, although all the Supervisors object to such a length of time, as they feel certain that before the expiration of this period the county will be in a position to build a hall of records, and thus provide the necessary outside space for offices. However, the proposition of yesterday is the best so far made to the Supervisors.

Several of the Supervisors are in favor of making a levy next September to create a fund for the purchase of the land adjoining the Courthouse on the south, and to make a further levy the coming two years for funds with which to build suitably.

Supervisors Patterson and Alexander yesterday declared that many businessmen had expressed to them the belief that such a plan would be far more advantageous to the county than the any county bond issue for the purchase of land and erection of buildings.

The county now is paying a rental of $1000 a year for outside quarters, and the demand is still growing for more rooms. Outside the Courthouse there are now provided quarters for the law library, County Superintendent of Schools, Horticultural Commission, Coroner, Public Administrator and the justice. Immediately upon the erection of the two additional justice quarters will also have to be provided for them.

G. M. Giffen stated yesterday that if his proposition is accepted he and his associates are ready to begin immediately the construction of the building ready for the county's use in a remarkably short time.

The Supervisors are especially inclined to favor this proposition because of its location, being only a short distance from the Courthouse, and thus a saving of time to officials and citizens.

Chamber of Mines.
The Chamber of Mines reported the addition of more new names to its rolls within the last few days. The eighteen given below, it will be seen, represent all grades and several sections of mining territory and include a mining engineer from Old Pico, besides other persons from Greenwater, Goldfield and Rayville. The list is as follows:

BRENTWOOD PARK

A Success From the Start

The appropriation of a cool half million for improvements; the establishment of a mammoth nursery containing 87,000 trees, palms and shrubs of 800 varieties for beautifying the Park; the employment of Supt. John McLaren of Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, to supervise the great scheme of landscape architecture—these facts, combined with the superb location, guaranteed Brentwood unparalleled success before a lot was sold.
And homeites have sold from the first, because you can not see Brentwood without becoming enthusiastic over its marvelous view of the southeast. Arrange to visit Brentwood Park with us via automobile; breathe in the spirit which gave rise to its creation; YOU, too, will be ambitious to make it your permanent home.
Lots average 30,000 square feet each—not small, monotonous, rectangular lots. The new Harriman lines will put the Park and city within 20 minutes.

Vermont Ave. Square

Big Lots $600 And Up
One-Fourth Cash Balance Easy Terms
All Eyes are on the Square The homeseeker who investigates the claims of Los Angeles' subdivisions invariably returns to Vermont Ave. Square to locate.
There is everything at the Square that makes a residential spot desirable—location, away from the city's noise, dust, smoke and odors, yet quickly accessible to every part of the city by fast car service and transfers; low fare, 5 cents; an exclusive, first-class residence community surrounding it; fine view of the mountains; low prices, steadily increasing values; a beautiful public park, and city public school on property.
There are no more lots available at $525; they were sold out last month in the $75,000 worth of fine homesites that were purchased by individual home-builders in 30 days.
But there are still fine locations in this center of activity—the choicest home spot in the growing southwest. Secure one TODAY while prices remain low. Take Grand Ave. cars.

NEW HARBOR PROSPECT.

Government Representative Says the

Plans is Too Near San Pedro for Early Action.

NEWPORT, March 11.—Regarding the prospect of the improvement of

Newport Harbor, Capt. Fries, Corps of Engineers, U.S.A., says:

"There are great possibilities. It is a fine body of water and there are many natural advantages that other points on the Coast do not offer. But with all due respect as to the advantages and the desire of the promoters of the place as a free harbor, I must be frank and say that it will be many years before assistance from the government can be expected. So far as a government harbor is concerned there is one factor that will militate against

Newport, and that is its proximity to San Pedro. Of course a harbor could be made by private enterprise but I believe the task too stupendous for the securing of a harbor in this way. To protect the mouth of the bay and prevent the shifting sands from closing it up it would be necessary to build a breakwater extending out into the ocean to a point where a depth of twenty or thirty feet of water could

We Give It Free to Weak Men

No man should be without this guide to health and happiness. It is worth $100.00 to every weak man. It tells in plain, easily down. It cures when all else has failed. Our arguments are good, our system is good, but we know you haven't time to study these. You want proof, and we give you that and lots of it. When your own neighbors tell you we cured them you know we did it.

H. L. Smith, Box 1128, Roosevelt, A. T., writes: "Your Electric Belt is certainly all that you represent it to be. The weakness which was one of my principal troubles was overcome after wearing your Belt a week.

The pains in my back are gone and I feel stronger in every respect. I am certainly well satisfied with your Belt."
